

Too many computer games

Ben had an unforgettable experience last week. One day at 3 o'clock at midnight, Ben was still up, playing exciting computer games. However, he couldn't pass the 99th level. 'Ah! Almost!' 'It's unfair!' 'Try again!' He was too excited that he forgot to keep his volume down. His mum was woken up by his noise. She said in an angry voice, 'Beeeeeeen! You should go to bed now! Noooooooooooooow!' And she slammed the door hard. Ben sighed, 'Well, maybe I really should play this tomorrow. Oh! How excited ----' He fell asleep before he finished the sentence...

The next day, he couldn't wake up by himself. 'Ben! It's 7 o'clock in the morning already! Quick! Get dressed!' Ben rubbed his eyes tiredly. 'Okay,' he replied. When he got to school, his teacher said, 'Students, today we're going to have a test. Please buy the time to have the last revision.'

10 minutes went by. His teacher said, 'You now have 45 minutes to finish this test. You may start now.' When there were 10 minutes left, Ben couldn't hold on. His teacher was caring and said to Ben, 'Ben, have you finished your test?' '...' 'Ben?' 'zzz...' Ben's snore made the teacher jump. She woke Ben up but he just dazed and did nothing.

As time went by, it's time to get back the papers. 'Ben! You've made me disappointed!' Ben's mum went crazy as she saw the mark on Ben's paper. Ben ignored his mother. Actually, he already decided to be more hard-working.

At last, Ben got a high mark when he had another test. 'Hooray!' he cheered. His best friend Sam got a low mark this time. 'Let me help you, Sam!' Ben offered. 'Thank you,' replied Sam, 'You've got a big change, Ben!'
