Last Saturday, I was busy cooking in the kitchen. It's Dad's birthday, so my mum and I were making a cake for Dad. I followed my mum's instructions. Then we made the mixture successfully.

Then Mum told me to set the timer to 13 minutes for the oven, but I accidentally set it to 30 minutes!

After half an hour,"Ding!" It's the sound of the oven! My Mum said, "Be careful! It must be very hot." I replied her OK. Then I took the cake out of the oven ."What? Why all turned black?Oh! No! It must be burnt! " I said. "How many minutes did you set?" Mum asked. "30 minutes!" I replied. "Oh! No!I actually told you to set 13 minutes but not 30 minutes!" Mum said. "Oh,no! Why am I so silly about it!!" I cried.

After that," What can we do now?" I asked Mum sadly. "I don't know…." Mum replied. "Ah! I have an idea! What about going to the mall to get a lovely birthday cake and a surprise birthday present for Dad?" I asked excitedly. "Good idea! Let's go to the mall now." Mum replied. After that, we got a birthday cake and a birthday present for Dad at the mall. When we got home,"Phew.! Fortunately we got this for Dad! We are very lucky that we got this great idea !" I said. "Hurray!" We shouted. What I have learned today is listen carefully to theirs and not to be careless.

Last Saturday, it was my grandma's birthday. Instead of going to buy grandma a present, I wanted to give her something more memorable- a handmade birthday cake.

With the help of Mum, I mixed the flour, eggs and sugar into a mixing bowl. After mixing all the ingredients, I poured the mixture into the cake mould.

After that, I put the baking tin into the oven. Mum said, "set the timer to thirteen minutes." However, I set the timer to thirty minutes by mistake.

After half an hour, I heard three beeps coming from the oven. Fill with expectation, I rushed to the oven and took out the baking tin with mittens. To my horror, the cake was burnt. I could not contain disappointment and broke out with tears.

At this moment, Mum comforted me and said," It's alright. We still have time and ingredients to make a cake again." This time I followed Mum's instructions fully. By the time the cake was ready, the kitchen smelt of it. Eagerly I took out the cake and found that it turned golden brown.

I felt extremely happy that I was successful to make a perfect birthday cake to Grandma.

Last Saturday, I was busy in the kitchen. Because it was my best friend Kelly's birthday. Mum taught me to make a cake. First I put the egg into the bowl and beat it. Then I mixed the egg, milk, sugar and flour together. After that, I poured them into a mould. Finally, I put the cake in the oven and baked it.

When I am setting the timer, Mum said, "You need to bake the cake for thirteen minutes." But I set 309 minutes by mistake. A moment later, some smoke came out from the kitchen. "Oh! No! The cake is burnt!" I was so disappointed and a volt from the blue. Mum said, "Don't be sad. I will help you to make a new one."

Finally, Mum and I made a cake again quickly. Because the birthday party would start quickly, After thirty minutes, the cake was done. The cake was beautiful and yummy. I was over the moon. When I gave the cake to Kelly, she was as happy as a lark.

Last Saturday, I was busy cooking in the kitchen. Mum and I tried to make a chocolate birthday cake. We made it for Grandma's birthday the next day. Mum helped me to make the cake. First we mixed the flour, sugar, chocolate and eggs together. Then we poured the mixture into the oven and set the timer. Mum said, "Bake the cake for thirteen minutes, please." However I set the timer for thirty minutes by mistake.

A moment later, I smelt some smoke coming out from the oven. Then I raced to the kitchen quickly. "Oh no! The cake is burnt!" I felt very disappointed. I said, "Mum, can we buy another cake?" "Of course, okay! We can buy a more delicious cake." Mum replied.

The next day, we bought a new cake. After that we put some fruit on the cake. I said," Happy birthday Grandma!" "Thank you, Ella. The cake is so yummy!" Grandma said. I have learnt a lesson, I need to be more careful.

Last Saturday, I was busy cooking in the kitchen. I tried to make a chocolate birthday because it was Dad's birthday the next day. Mum helped me to make the cake. First we mixed the ingredients together. Then we poured the mixture into the oven and set the timer. After that Mum said," Bake the cake for thirty minutes." I said,"Ok!" However I set the timer for thirty minutes accidentally.

A moment later, I saw some smoke coming out from the oven. Then I raced to the kitchen quickly. "Oh no! The cake is burnt!" I felt so depressed and cried, "Oh! Dad's birthday cake is burnt! What can I do?"

Finally Mum said," We can bake the cake again." The next day, we gave Dad the birthday cake. Dad was terrific. I have learnt a lesson. I need to listen to others carefully.
